2. APPROVAL OF THE AGENDA:

It was moved and seconded that the Agenda, be adopted. The motion carried unanimously.

3. PRESENTATIONS:

(a) Introduction

Jake Rudolph, Chief Administrative Officer, introduced the Special Finance and Audit Committee Meeting.

(b) Departmental Business Plan Presentations

1. Development Services

Introduced by Dale Lindsay, General Manager, Development Services.

- Development Services consists of Community Development and Development Approvals and accounts for 7.6% of the City operating budget

Presentations:

1. Bill Corsan, Director, Community Development, provided a PowerPoint presentation. Highlights included:

- Community Development consists of numerous inter-related departments including Real Estate, Sustainability, Permit Centre and Business Licensing, Economic Development, Bylaw Services and Parking and Community Planning
- Staff are in the process of creating the sustainability section and recruiting a Sustainability Manager

Committee discussion took place regarding the Community Development portion of the budget in comparison to other municipalities.

Jake Rudolph, Chief Administrative Officer, advised the Committee that in comparison to other like-size municipalities, the City of Nanaimo (the City) is average for budget amount and ranges based on how many sub departments are included under Development Services.

Bill Corsan, Director, Community Development, continued the presentation. Highlights included:

- Provided a review of 2021 achievements including major undertakings such as the REIMAGINE Nanaimo public engagement process, Downtown Security Action Plan and the BC Housing Memorandum of Understanding (MOU)

- Slides not contained in the PowerPoint include land acquisitions, such as the Jeans Burns property and the update of the Business Licence Bylaw and Short Term Rentals Bylaw

 - There are numerous large projects planned for 2022 including the Sandstone Master Plan and the Green Thumb Nursery property
 - Reviewed the 2022 key initiatives
 - Business case not included in the draft budget is for a Development Service Clerk
2. Jeremy Holm, Director, Development Approvals, provided a PowerPoint presentation. Highlights included:
- Review of department which includes Subdivision, Current Planning, Building Inspections and Engineering, and Environment
 - Development Approvals makes up 2.7% of the City's operating budget
 - Reviewed the 2021 Achievements
 - Projections for 2021 include $319 million in construction value
 - Approximately 1400 units approved through development permits in 2021
 - At this time 55% of development is purpose built rentals and there is a high demand for additional rental units

Committee discussion took place regarding the total cost of construction at the time of permitting, accuracy compared to the actual cost of construction and the City's method for assessing construction value.

Jeremy Holm, Director, Development Approvals, advised the Committee that the City uses an industry standard, used by other municipalities, to assess construction value.

Jeremy Holm, Director, Development Approvals continued the presentation. Highlights included:

- Building permit function review will be coming forward to Council in December which will include an update on the fast track permit process currently being developed

Committee discussion took place regarding development and industry feedback regarding the fast track building permit initiative.

Jeremy Holm, Director, Development Approvals advised the Committee that feedback for the fast track process has been positive and Staff are continuing to work with industry professionals.

Jeremy Holm, Director, Development Approvals, continued his presentation. Highlights included:

 - Reviewed the 2022 Considerations and Opportunities
 - The REIMAGINE Nanaimo process has allowed for feedback on the programs and services offered to families and Staff have begun working on new services for 2022 based on this feedback

Councillor Thorpe entered the Shaw Auditorium at 10:35 a.m.

Committee discussion took place regarding growing trends in the community for new services and programs.

Lynn Wark, Director, Recreation Services, advised the Committee that the community is looking for more outdoor activities, more waterfront activities, parallel programming where children and adults can take part in activities at the same time, additional social gathering space and more neighbourhood facilities.

Lynn Wark, Director, Recreation Services, continued the presentation. Highlights included:

- The Leaders in Training celebrates 40 years in 2022
- Proposed changes include:
 - $25,000 annual operating budget added for maintenance of existing public art
 - $25,000 annual increase to Public Art project to fund additional opportunities
 - $50,000 increase to Nanaimo Art Gallery's annual operating grant
- The business case not included in the draft budget is the Aquatics Development Plan (ADP) which would support adequate supervision and leadership for Aquatics
- Aggressive recruitment of Staff would need to occur with ongoing training offered for those existing employees and new staff if the ADP is implemented
- Working with the School District #68 to offer a four credit program for high school students who would like to become lifeguards

Committee discussion took place regarding

- Determination of the ratio of lifeguards to users
- Business cases included in the draft budget versus the business case not included in the draft budget
- Potential for reduced services due to low staffing
- Increasing user fees to provide for additional staffing
- Lifesaving training and program decreased or stopped due to COVID-19

Kathy Gonzales, Manager, Aquatics, advised the committee that the Health Act designates a certain number of lifeguards to user and the Life Saving Society sets a standard of supervision, which can be adjusted, based on the types of activities occurring.

Lynn Wark, Director, Recreation Services, advised the Committee that:

- Staff have worked on an alternate plan but this plan would equate to a decrease in service levels as the current staffing levels are not sustainable
- Small increase in user fees will be coming forward to Council as part of the user fee review in 2022
- Registration for lifeguard training program has increased however; training was put on hold for a significant amount of time during COVID-19

2. Art Groot, Director, Facility and Parks Operations, provided a PowerPoint presentation. Highlights included:

- Parks Operations consists of Recreation Facilities and Custodial Services, Facilities and Parks Operations and Civic Facilities and accounts for 5.5% of the city operating budget
