Nature Nanaimo's Tour Guiding Project 2022 - 2023

Refers to communityprogramsdevelopmentapplication-2023.pdf

In 2022 Nature Nanaimo was given a grant by the City of Nanaimo to start-up an experimental program at ButterTubs Marsh in the summer.

The intention was to enhance Park & Rec's city-wide community summer programming with an environmental program focussing on the unique ecosystem of the ButterTubs East Marsh.

Nature Nanaimo was granted $2,450 for that year (phase 1).

The City-owned Miner's Cottage was used as a base of operations for the Tours.

There was no charge for the Tours. Unlike most P&R events, no advance registration was required.

The budget was $2,450 in total: tour designer $150, brochure $850, training $450, signage $1000

The expenditures were so low because we were unable to complete certain items and others were in fact donated by volunteers. Expenditures from the budget amounted only $770, therefore the remaining $1,680 was returned to the City.

Results overall were disappointing. Attendance was variable. Advertising was not very effective

This year's Phase 2 will address the shortcomings identified from Phase 1 as described above.

Marketing will be through the City Summer Activity Guide and social media

In addition, Pre-registration will greatly enhance our ability to track and communicate with participants and will be facilitated by Parks & Rec

We are also producing an informative Discovering Nature at Buttertubs Marsh Guide which will be made available to participants..

The budget will provide some basic materials, handouts and minimal equipment to facilitate the enjoyment and expand the knowledge of the participants

The success will be measured in terms of numbers of participants, and by feed back comments
