Details of the Presentation:

Group Introduction & call for further engagement with city council and other decision makers regarding housing.

Introduce the advocacy group to City Council as a group of experiential Indigenous and newcomer women who have been working to develop an anti-poverty strategy based on interdependence. Affordable housing is one of the women's key concerns and they would like to engage with city council regarding this, and ask to have city representatives and other decision makers meet with them at a future date to share knowledge and seek feedback.
