2023 Nanaimo Community Action Team Overview for: Nanaimo City Council

Governance and Priorities Committee Meeting

Dec. 11, 2023

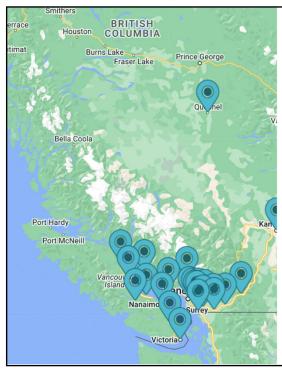

1

Thank you for the opportunity to present today.

We would like to acknowledge that we work and reside in the unceded Territory of the Snuneymuxw First Nation.

The Nanaimo CAT is honoured to support communities living upon the lands of the Snuneymuxw, Snaw-naw-as, and Stz'uminus First Nations, recognizing the disproportionate ways in which Indigenous Peoples are impacted by the Toxic Drug Crisis across Turtle Island.

What is the role of the Community Action Team (CAT)?

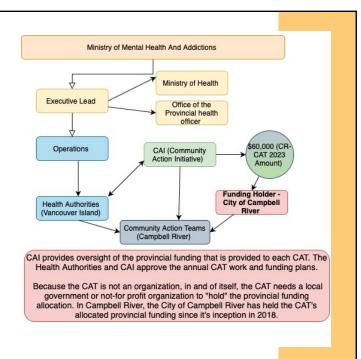

The Community Action Team works to develop, support and implement local interventions to address the toxic drug poisoning (overdose) crisis, which was declared a public health emergency in 2016, and continues today.

As a policy intervention, the CAT is a community- based approach that improves communication and cooperation at a local level, identifies and supports locally relevant programming, and breaks down silos among service providers, partners, government agencies, and the community.

Across BC, there are 36 Community Action Teams, and we are all connected and overseen by the Community Action Initiative (CAI), and our respective Health Authorities.

CAT Operational Structure

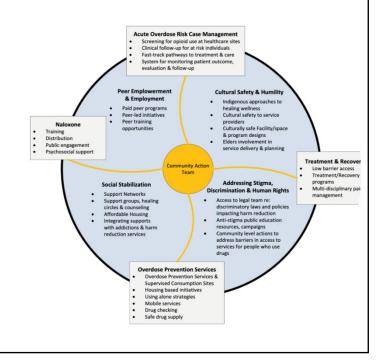

What does the CAT focus on?

All CATs are mandated to create a work plan that addresses some of the core interventions that are set out by the BCCDC and Community Action Initiative BC (CAIBC):

Core interventions include:

- Naloxone access
- Peer empowerment and employment
- Social stabilization
- Addressing stigma, discrimination and human rights
- Treatment and recovery
- Overdose prevention services
- Acute overdose risk case management

Who is the Nanaimo Community Action Team (CAT)?

The Community Action is a network of community service providers, not-for profit organizations, Government agencies, healthcare providers, community members and people with lived and living experience.

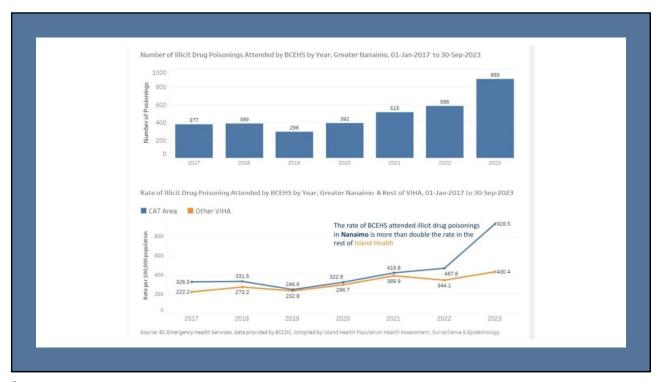

The Community Action Team includes representatives • AVI Health and Community Services from:

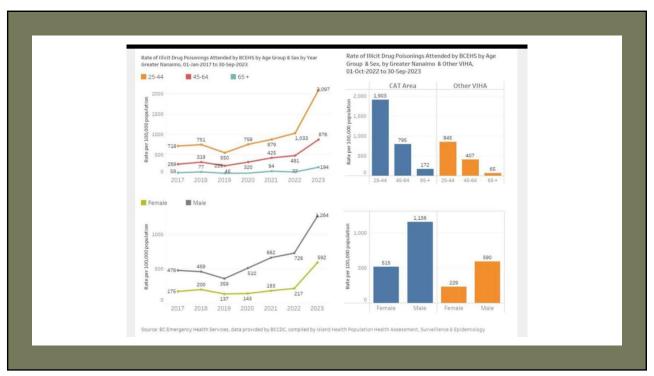

- Community Members including People with Lived and Living Experience
- Snuneymuxw First Nation
- City of Nanaimo
- Tillicum Lelum
- First Nations Health Authority
- Island Health
- · Nanaimo Brain Injury Society
- Literacy Central Vancouver Island
- Risebridge
- Canadian Mental Health Association

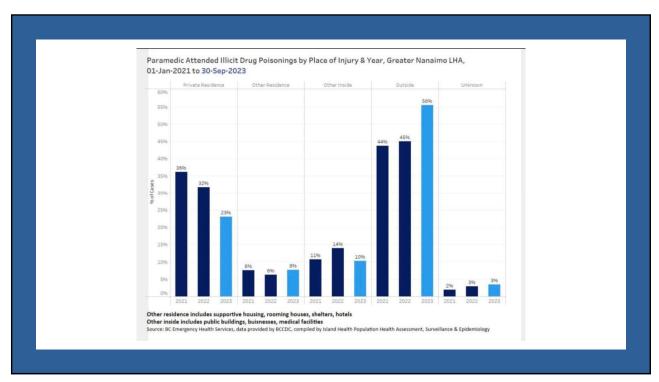

- Downtown BIA
- John Howard Society
- United Way
- Moms Stop The Harm Society
- Local elected officials
- And Many others..

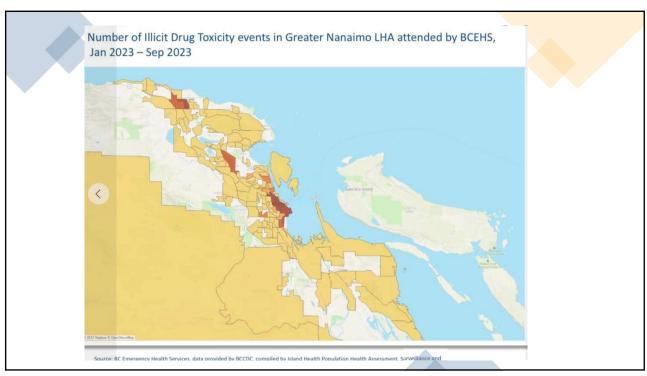

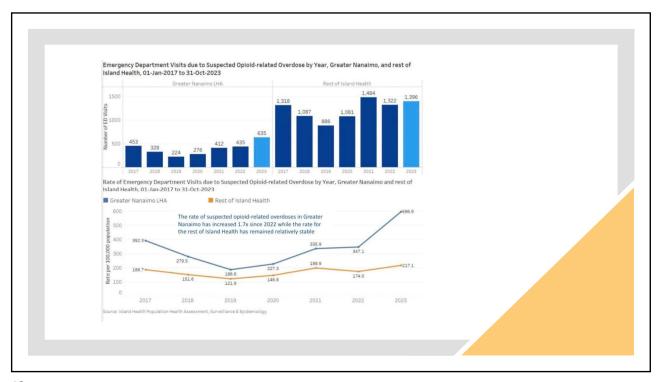

"the rate of illicit drug toxicity deaths among those age 25-44 is 2.7X higher in Nanaimo then the rest of Island Health" Why CAT is "The proportion of deaths occurring outside has nearly doubled in 2023 alone' important: Nanaimo is the only community in the entire province that has seen a significant increase in toxic drug deaths this year. 85% of those unhoused in our community (800+ people) don't have access to shelter during winter. "Drug toxicity deaths in Nanaimo are more than double the Nanaimo is in rate of the rest of Island Health' "The rate of BCEHS attending drug toxicity poisonings In a desperate Nanaimo is more then double the rate then the rest of our Health authority' crisis

What is needed now, and as we move into 2024

PEER CENTERED COLLECTIVE IMPACT

We need to move from a desired sense of collaboration to actual tangible steps where we feel the collective impact in community
